

Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm writing to show my interest in your prestigious company's Full Stack Developer employment. I am certain that, with my varied visual design experience and love of coding, I can make a valuable contribution to your team and offer a distinct viewpoint on your development projects.

I started working as a graphic designer with Sangamam Production in May 2018 and remained there till August 2019. I improved my design abilities and gained a sharp eye for aesthetics, user experience, and attention to detail over this time. From August 2019 until February 2023, I worked as a Graphic Designer at Lumina Datamatics Ltd., where I developed my technical skills further while engaging with developers, working in cross-functional teams, and turning innovative concepts into useful designs.

I have subsequently established a solid foundation in full stack development, especially in front-end and back-end technologies, following a two-year career lull during which I concentrated on upskilling and personal growth. I am now proficient in a number of important programming languages and frameworks, including HTML, CSS, JavaScript, ReactJs, Node.js, and Express. I also contribute a strong grasp of version control software, server-side technologies, and databases.

My background in graphic design has uniquely positioned me to blend both technical and creative approaches to problem-solving, enabling me to design user-centric, visually appealing, and functional applications. I am excited about the opportunity to apply my skills and passion for coding to contribute to your development team and help build innovative solutions.

I am eager to discuss how my technical expertise, creative problem-solving abilities, and previous experience can align with the needs of your organization. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of contributing to your team and learning from the talented professionals at your organization.

Sincerely,

Shanmugraja Gajendran
